[ON THE BACK IF YOU WANT MORE ROOM]

This workshop has made a world of difference in how I think about interacting with other people.

I finally understand why my dad was (and still is) emotionally abusive - he has a list on himself for abandoning his daughter from his first →

With sincere thanks,

marriage (and from marrying her mother + divorcing her) and because he didn't graduate from college. It's not about me - such a relief! I also understand why my fiancé is so able to have fun and do pleasurable things - and last night it all came together and I can finally not be stingy about having fun. When I understand these concepts in my own life - I do now - I will be much more able to understand why kids act out often. I feel so empowered to say what I am actually thinking + what is correct. It is incredibly liberating to have permission to do the right thing. ~~My~~ My perception ~~was~~ ~~about~~ school / communication / relationships has totally shifted. I come from a family in which people are puddles and nobody says what they think and blame other people. My half sister got married 6 weeks ago without telling anyone + I finally (1) have the courage to tell her that I would have liked to be there (2) know that it's not my fault that she treats me terribly. My only concern going forward is that I will not have the energy to be theatrical. Teaching is hard enough (3) as a fairly extreme introvert. But I think the relationship skills I learned are going to transform my teaching practice. I was so surprised by how much I was affected by Wed. afternoon. Initially I was so anxious that I wanted to leave. But I started crying + felt so much better after listening to others + saying positive things about myself. I wish I had known all of this years ago. Thank you so much

Denny -

Thanks so much for the workshop. You really made me feel great about myself and to feel like I can walk around as my self and with confidence. I've definitely been a list checker in the past, and it's something I really want to work on. I'm definitely going to be more solution oriented and try to be a leader in my school after this.

Denny,

This is my third time here and I want to come back again and again. I am so appreciative of your time and energy into making ACPS (and other) teachers LOVE what they do. You teach us to take full responsibility for how we think and feel, teach us the reasoning behind it, and then make sure we are ready to succeed. You offer us to call you and I know you mean it (And I may take you up on it!) Thank you.

You are an inspiration to me.

With sincere thanks,

I CANNOT WAIT FOR SCHOOL TO START TO TRY THIS IN CLASS. IT HAS BEEN SEVERAL YEARS SINCE I WAS THIS ENTUSED.
THANKS!

With sincere thanks,

This workshop has helped me, ^{not only} become a better teacher, but also become a better wife, daughter, friend, cousin...

It ~~is~~ also made me see that I could change from how I was raised and be a better mother to my future children.

1. How would you celebrate this workshop, overall:

2. What three [3] ideas/concepts did you really like?

- ARFF & the importance of filling it.
- how to get High Trust established in a classroom
- Go to SOLUTION (do not dwell in the problem)

3. What two (2) phrases/quotes in this workshop did you really like?

- Get healthy & joyful!
- Love more, care less

4. Dennis, I want more [and you'll have it!]

example: no more "thank you" to "great job"
This class is so packed with information & strategies. They make a lot of sense but are also counterintuitive for me & require practice, time to adapt them into my schema, & reiteration. I just want to do it all again.

right now is perfect timing
had time to try to put this to practice

Hi Denny!

THANK you for maintaining such a strong, positive, entertaining presence. This week flew by & I am so thankful to have had this time to set my brain & soul to be High Trust focused going into the school year. Round two of this workshop was a great brush up/reminder PLUS new concepts have sunk in. I really can't wait to get my class set up to be successful! I'm teaching two phys. sci classes for 11th graders who struggle: math/sci & I can't wait to inspire them to be healthy, successful, & joyful 😊

Sarah

With sincere thanks,

This will be my 10th year teaching and on paper, I have always been considered a good teacher. However, it is now, after having attended the workshop twice and taught using High Trust approaches, that I grasp how high ~~my~~ potential to shape the minds of my students truly is. I have never enjoyed teaching all of my students this much. I love what I do and am thrilled for a new school year to begin!

Plus, it works beautifully with my own 3 young children! Looking forward to next workshop and to working with my HT colleagues at Minnie Howard!
