With total gratitude,

My mom, even though she's taken about 18 million ARFF workshops, didn't buy herself the down jacket she wanted until her ARFF was at an all time low. Jeez mom, you should~~nt~~ have listened to Denny! When mama's not happy, nobody is happy.

My dad struggled as a kid because his parents gave him conditional support but didn't front load it. He learned from your workshops and went to solution. As a music teacher he values music (duh) so to celebrate me and my passions for music he gave me my own piano when I moved off campus my junior year at PLU. He explicitly told me that the piano was an unconditional gift. This allowed me to fill my ARFF by playing piano for recreation, then allowed me to again fill my ARFF when I sold it without guilt upon graduation and moving away without the hassle of hauling around a 4,000 piece of wood. Cool huh? He felt good, I felt good, it was awesome!

But I didn't appreciate it fully until now, 3 years later!

I'm diggin' this stuff.
You rock!

5. Please share some of your POSITIVE personal thoughts with me, which others might enjoy.

[ON THE BACK IF YOU WANT MORE ROOM]

You gave me a lot to think about and practice. I am thinking more closely about what I say and my on stage presence in front of the classroom.

With total gratitude,

Thank you!
